

15 December 2010

Church expands to cater for the masses

A FINCHAMPSTEAD church will be holding some of its Christmas services at a nearby college as there is not quite enough room at the inn.

St James' Church in Finchampstead (pictured) is moving several of its services to the chapel at Wellington College in Duke's Ride, Crowthorne, due to a shortage of space at the church.

On Sunday, December 19, the service of Nine Lessons and Carols will be held at Wellington College, along with the Christingle Service and Midnight Mass on Christmas

Eve at 4pm and 11pm.

Christmas Day services will be held at St James' Church in Finchampstead with Holy Communion at 8am, a family service at 9.30am and a family communion at 11am. On Sunday, December 26, services will also be held at St James' at 8am and 9.30am and there will be no parish communion at 11am.