

Jon gives Lent talk

A FAMILIAR face stood in the pulpit of St James' Finchampstead before Easter – it belonged to Jon Snow, the Channel 4 newscaster.

He was visiting the packed church to give a lecture as part of the church's Lent course. Speaking on the theme The Media: Why The Worst May Be Over, And The Best Is Yet To Come, the journalist gave an inspiring talk.

In it, he looked at how the technology that brings us the news has changed over his career, right up to present-day reporting utilising camera phones and social media.

✦ You can listen to the six lectures in full by logging on to st-james.finchampstead.co.uk/news/notices.

