Take in the view from your PC

A 12TH century church can now be seen from the comfort of your armchair.

The beautifully restored interior of the Grade I listed parish church of St James, Church Road, Finchampstead can be seen on Google Street View.

Browsers can see panoramic views from the top of its tower. Photos were taken for Google by Wokingham photographer Andrew Emptage.

The project to preserve the internal and external fabric of the church was finished two years ago, following a £550,000 appeal.
